

Think Of It As A Really, Really Bad Haircut... Which Could Kill You.

It's called "tree topping," and it's a tragedy.

A beautiful shade tree can survive decades of storms, drought and pests, only to have its life cut short by someone who believes that topping is good for the tree.

Sadly, many homeowners don't realize that topping a tree – the drastic removal of mature limbs – permanently injures it.

EXPERTS AGREE

DON'T TOP YOUR TREE

Wounds from improper cutting expose the tree to decay, disease, and early death. And a topped tree is expensive to maintain.

So protect your trees and save your money by hiring only professional arborists.
